An open, empty cardboard box is shown from a top-down perspective. The box is made of brown corrugated cardboard and is open, revealing its interior. Inside the box, there is a clear plastic bag containing several small, dark, cylindrical metal parts. Below the box, a metal tray or container is visible, which appears to be the same one shown in the previous image. The tray is made of metal and has a dark, possibly black, interior surface. The entire scene is set against a plain white background.
