A close-up, low-angle shot of a diverse crowd of young people at a music festival. Many individuals have their hands raised high in the air, some with fingers spread. They are wearing various colorful wristbands and headbands. The background shows a bright, overcast sky and the tops of modern buildings, suggesting an urban festival setting.

A close-up, underwater photograph of a young child with brown hair, smiling broadly at the camera. The child is wearing a blue wristband on their left wrist, which has the word 'RFID' printed in white. The child's face is wet with water droplets, and their eyes are looking directly at the viewer. The background is a clear blue body of water with some light refraction visible.
